RECOMMENDATIONS

Given the information above, the new proposed Aspect website will be positioned with a more creative yet simple and classy edge to its brand, layout, and design. Aspect also provides a wide range of product from contemporary and event bouquets to seeds which we will not overload the front page following our competitors. The creative yet classy brand identity for Aspect should follow through into the layout elements throughout the new website. The performance of the site should focus on achieving high scores on SEO and accessibility while maintaining a generally interactive and strategic on all social media platforms. Aspect can partner with trustable and payment gateway such as ApplePay and PayNow for a more efficient payment process that can boost its mobile performance. It is recommended that Aspect focuses on promoting their brand and offerings on Instagram as its competitors. Additionally, Aspect should consider posting short videos especially on special occasions such as Mother's Day through TikTok as there are currently 8.5 million monthly active users in Australia statistically proven. LinkedIn is also a platform that most adults used for business purposes. Hence, it is suggested for Aspect to create a LinkedIn account and promote their event flower arrangements there.
